POSITIVE SUCCESSES GAINED BY ALLIES IN HARD BATTING

INDICATIONS ARE THAT THE GERMAN DRIVE IN ARMENTIERES REGION IS LOSING SOME OF ITS FORCE. IN FLANDERS HUNS ARE MAKING STRONGEST EFFORT TO CUT RAILROAD TO MESSINES RIDGE.

AMERICAN FORCES ARE COUNTING STRONGLY IN HOLDING LONG FRANCO-BELGIAN FRONT AND OTHER POINTS IN REGION OF ST. MIHEL

GERMANS LAST NIGHT RETURNED TO ATTACK ON FRENCH POSITIONS IN BRULE WOOD BUT WERE THROWN BACK BY VIGOROUS RESISTANCE OF AMERICANS AND FRENCH.

(By Associated Press Dispatch)

Indications are that the German drive in the Armentieres region is losing some of its force are contained in today's news from the front. Simultaneously comes news that American help is counting strongly in the holding of the long Franco-Belgian front at other points in the region east of St. Mihiel.

The Germans last night returned to the attack on the French positions on Brule wood in the Apremont region where French and American troops yesterday repulsed a German thrust. The Americans once more displayed a vigorous resistance and in conjunction with the French beat off the Germans, throwing them out by a counter attack from the one point where an enemy footing was obtained.

In the Flanders fighting the Germans are making their strongest drive for Bailleul, the important railway point northwest of Armentieres, feeding the Messines Ridge.

Elsewhere the British successes were of a positive nature. Allied successes were also scored on the Somme front, the French and British in a united attack near the river Luce southeast of Amiens where their lines join, drove the Germans completely out of the village of Hangard.

AMERICANS BEST GERMANS DECISIVELY

Paris, April 13.—(Associated Press Cable)—The Germans last night renewed their attacks upon the French positions in the Brule wood in the forest of Apremont.

American troops in this sector, in conjunction with the French, says today's statement, have combatted with vigor and broken the majority of the enemy attacks. At one point where the Germans obtained a footing they were thrown out by a counter attack.

GERMANS DRIVEN OUT OF HANGARD

On the Somme battle front the entire village of Hangard and cemetery has been regained from the Germans.

GERMAN ATTACK REPULSED

London, April 13.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—The Germans made an attack last night west of Merville on the northern battle front and were repulsed, the war office announces. The British advanced their lines slightly near Festubert and took a few prisoners.

There was heavy fighting last evening near Neuve Eglise and Wulverghem and the battle here was still in progress at a late hour last night.

Strong enemy forces launched an attack early last night east of Locon and succeeded in entering the British lines at certain points, but was ejected by a counter attack. A second attack attempted later in the night at the same place was beaten off.

In the sector south of the Somme the British and French troops, by counter attacks, drove out the Germans from Hangard, which they penetrated yesterday.

British Retire Further West of Merville.

(Associated Press Dispatch)

With the British Army in France, April 13.—The latest phase of the battle of Armentieres is a determined German attack in the direction of Bailleul from the south. Yesterday's all-day fighting resulted in the retirement of the British forces further west of Merville.

The enemy made a fresh assault early last night with the intention of occupying the great forest of Nieppe, but he gained only a few hundred yards at the expense of heavy casualties and the British front this morning lies in front of the forest.

Further attacks on the British right wing between Givency and Robecq on the LaBasse canal yesterday wholly failed. Two attempts made late in the afternoon to capture Locon were repulsed. The British also counter attacked around Givency and took an important German post.

RETIREMENT OF CROZIER IS RUMORED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, April 13.—At their weekly conference with War Department officials today, Senate military committee members said they were advised that further important reorganization was planned and Brigadier General Williams would be appointed Chief of Ordnance probably through retirement of Major General Crozier, now serving on the super war council.

Mr. Parrish was later called by phone and notified that unless he purchased immediately his name would be yellow-carded and the story given to the press, according to the statement. Mr. Parrish said he refused to be "bulldozed" and that he knew his duty and would perform it.

Parrish showed $2,000 worth of Liberty Bonds of previous issues and several hundred dollars' worth of thrift stamps.

MOST BOMBS DROPPED IN SAME SPOT

(Associated Press Dispatch)

Paris, April 13.—Most of the bombs dropped during last night's air raid fell in one spot, striking a house. It was evident the raiders found their work so much more difficult under the new aerial protection.

It was a still, dark night of the most favorable for an aerial attack and a raid was generally expected.

POSTMASTER EXPLAINS HIS ATTITUDE

Says He Wouldn't be "Bull dozed" Into Buying Bonds.

Had Already Made Liberal Purchases.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Toledo, O., April 13.—Postmaster G. F. Parrish, yellow-carded yesterday by a local liberty loan committee for an alleged refusal to purchase bonds in the third liberty loan, in a statement today denied that he had refused. He stated that A. E. Avery, a bond salesman, had called on him and he had told Mr. Avery that he intended to buy bonds a little later, but felt that he could not afford to purchase for several weeks.

Mr. Parrish was later called by phone and notified that unless he purchased immediately his name would be yellow-carded and the story given to the press, according to the statement. Mr. Parrish said he refused to be "bulldozed" and that he knew his duty and would perform it.

ONE MEMBER OF M COMPANY IS WOUNDED

Fayette County Men Left the Trenches March 13, After Some Three Weeks, With Only One Casualty Reported—All Men Well, Writes Soldier.

In a letter received by his mother from a member of Company M, 166th Infantry, now on the fighting front in France, announcement is made that the company left the trenches, presumably in the Lunéville sector, about March 13th, presumably after some three weeks in the various systems of trenches.

During the time the men were in the front line trenches only one man in the company was injured, and that man suffered a wound in one hand. All of the other troops are well and doing splendidly according to the letter.

A letter written by the same member of the company, and dated March 3rd, stated that he was wearing rubber boots and had other equipment which clearly indicated that he was in the trenches.

It was about March fourth or fifth that the Fourth Regiment bore the brunt of a German attack, and lost a few men in casualties, but repulsed the Germans in such a thorough manner that they were not anxious to try another attack on the brave boys from the Rainbow Division.

It is believed that while M Company took a hand in the work of repulsing the Germans, that the Fayette county body were not at the point where the enemy attack was strongest.

The name of the man wounded in the hand was not given by the member who wrote to his mother, and the letter indicated that the wound was not severe.

Continuing the soldier declares that the place where they were located when he wrote was as level as Fayette county and the weather was like a May day in Ohio.

Harold McLean, Supply Sergeant, writing to his brother Robert in this city, states that he has received packages from the Dutch Treat Club.

In a note inclosed by Captain Hardway, acknowledgement of the receipt of certain packages is made.

Sergeant McLean declares that the entire Company has a high regard for Captain Peck, who succeeded Captain Hardway, after Captain Hardway had been given charge of another company that was needing a little more attention than the splendid old Company M.

One of the letters mailed March 19, declared all were well and that some of the troops were still gleaning in weight.

HARVESTING BIG TEXAS ONION CROP

Judge Joseph Hidy is in Texas at the present time, and will remain there for the next few weeks while he superintends the harvesting of 25,000 bushels of onion on his estate in the Lone Star state.

The crop this year is said to be a good one, and the onions of exceptional quality.

Judge Hidy will probably return about the middle of May.

"SELL IT AGAIN."

The Angora Cat purchased at the Red Cross Sale at the K. of P. Hall last night will be "sold again" and all the proceeds donated. See H. R. Roedecker at once for private sale.

MR. FARMER!

Without doubt it has not occurred to you that for every bushel of wheat you fail to market, you cut off the bread supply of one of our boys "over there," for just about three months time.

Thousands of bushels of wheat are stored on the farms of Old Fayette, some of it for higher prices which will positively not be secured, and some of it is there, simply because the owners have not given this very important matter enough consideration.

May first is the limit of time set by our Government to have all large stocks of wheat marketed.

Don't give the Federal authorities a chance to use their power of requisitioning, in a single instance, keep Fayette clean, market your wheat this month.

If the money derived therefrom be buried, your act could be construed as more patriotic than to hold this wheat from the needs of the allied world. The Government wants your money, but if you must hoard, bury the money and not the wheat.

Think it over, and then let's pull together.

—The Fayette County Food Administration Committee.

C. N. BAER, Sec'y.

ONLY WHITE MEN TO BE SENT NEXT TIME

The Local Board has received new orders relative to the men to be sent to camp from Fayette during the last week in this month, and as a result no negro selects will be sent in the next contingent, but will be sent in a separate contingent a little later on.

As a result of the change in orders, the list of men who will be sent will not be announced before some time the coming week.

BEST GERMINATION TEST NOW ON DISPLAY

What is pronounced by many to be the best germination test shown by any seed corn tested in Fayette county this season is now on display at the Fayette County Bank, and the test shows that more than 99 percent of some 1,000 grains of corn germinated.

The corn is Rotten Clarge, sold by Robert Howat to Chas. Himiller, and is of the 1916 crop.

The display is attracting a great deal of interest, as the germination is much higher than in some corn which has been purchased from outside of the county at $10 to $15 per bushel.

ARBOR DAY IN SCHOOLS

Arbor Day was observed by the several schools of the city Friday with appropriate ceremonies.

In the High School chapel services were held at 2:30 instead of one o'clock and the time from then until 3:40 was devoted to an impromptu program.

Dwight Ireland, Misses Wanna Mae Norris, Dora May Stewart and Virginia Srites gave readings on the laws pertaining to Arbor Day and the importance of bird and tree protection. Miss Jessie Sunkel rendered a song in Spanish, "Bolero," that delighted the audience.

Sunny Side School
The Sunny Side Schools put on entertaining and appropriate Arbor Day exercises, which were greatly enjoyed by a number of guests.

Miss Kerrigan's primary department staged a unique entertainment in the interest of the Red Cross, Food Conservation and Thrift Stamps that was exceedingly attractive as well as stimulating in these activities.

The little beginners invited to their room the first grade under Miss Prue Taylor, the second under Miss Maude Bush and the fifth under Mrs. Ethel McElwain.

The program opened with a very pretty grand march, led by little Marth Stont and Paul McCray, cunningly costumed as Goddess of Liberty and Uncle Sam. The little girls were all costumed as Red Cross Nurses and the boys as soldiers in Colonial hats. They carried flags as they marched singing the Battle Hymn of the Republic, the four rooms joining in the chorus.

A cunning and apropos little play, "The Children's Bit" was well presented by all the primary tots. The characters were Red Cross Nurses; Jolly Thrifts Stamps, Hoover's Hobbies, Uncle Sam's Heralds.

A specially entertaining part of the program was the bringing forward by the Herald's of large posters bearing such mottoes as "Lick the stamps if tyou will lick the Kaiser," "Kill the Kaiser in the Kitchen," "Buy Bonds and Build Battle Ships," "Uncle Sam needs that extra shovel full."

The pupils of Miss Bush and Miss Taylor presented a charming Arbor Day program of recitations, songs and choruses. The music was well given under Miss Taylor's direction.

The quintet of boys from Miss Bush's room had unusually good voices. The four grades sang patriotic songs with Miss Mary Edge at the organ.

Mrs. W. R. Ellison and Mrs. Blanche Arthur Creamer, of the Sunny Side Red Cross Unit, assisted in the afternoon's arrangements.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

Women of Washington, your help is needed at Red Cross headquarters! Every Washington woman and as many from the county outside as possible should be actively engaged in Red Cross relief work.

It is both your duty and your privilege to join the present loyal workers.

Women, do you realize what the fierce fighting in Picardy, the heavy attacks on the Messines Ridge mean to the American Red Cross? Have you any idea of the additional amount of surgical dressings, of hospital garments and supplies which will be needed by the thousands upon thousands of men wounded in the raging battles of the past three weeks? Do you realize that there will be many Americans among them and that it is only your incessant efforts and that of the unselfish workers in other Red Cross workshops which will provide in sufficient quantities for dressing these wounds?

In the great fight at Verdun hospital dressings and supplies ran out and wounds had to be dressed with sawdust. Think what it may mean if there are not enough American women willing to give time and energy to this work to prevent a repetition of the distressed conditions and scarcity of supplies which followed Verdun.

Yarn for Sox.

There is plenty of yarn now at the Red Cross workshop, and urgent call for the sox. Women can call for the yarn on any of the work days.

R. C. Medical Research Work.

Harry D. Gibson, general manager of the Red Cross, gives out a statement in regard to an appropriation by the Red Cross for medical research work in France, concerning this there has been public and private criticism because partly involved in this work is experimentation upon living animals for the purpose of finding methods of prevention and remedies for new and strange soldiers' diseases. Manager Gibson says in part:

From a Red Cross point of view it would be difficult to imagine any more imperative duty upon the Red Cross than to seek for every means of prevention and remedy for the sickness of soldiers.

The Red Cross did not, as has been stated, appropriate this money for abstract medical research and experimentation. It was to be used for the direct and immediate purpose of finding ways to prevent or cure wounds for sickness of American soldiers and was strictly a war measure.

It has developed, however, that there are a large number of earnest Red Cross members who have sincere convictions against the use of animals for the discovery of remedies for sickness. We recognize that it should be an obligation of Red Cross management to show deference to such earnest convictions.

The criticism seems to be largely confined to the fact that funds of the Red Cross should not be used for this work when any considerable number of its members have such convictions against the work.

"Realizing the situation, an individual has come forward and has offered to supply the money necessary for this work so that none shall be taken from the general funds of the Red Cross.

"This fund provided will also be used to reimburse the Red Cross General fund for any expenditures in connection therewith in the past. The Red Cross War Council has decided to accept this offer without in any way taking a position either for or against the question in controversy but because they do not wish their acts to be considered in conflict with the sincere convictions of Red Cross members."

BUSY MILLEDGEVILLE UNIT

One of the busiest Red Cross Units in the county is that at Milledgeville. In the short time since the first meeting day on the 11th of February, with an average attendance of 16, the reports show made and turned in: 6 kerchiefs, 10 sweaters, 44 property bags, 6 pair socks, 5 ambulance pillows, 162 bed shirts.

No Need to be Discouraged

The allied armies have not made those advances or scored those initial successes in the great battle, now raging in France, which give positive proof to the anxious folks at home that all is well yet, withal, there is that grim determination of the British, that brilliant bravery of the French, that enthusiastic heroism of the Americans, that calm patience of the Italians, waiting in the snow-filled passes of the Alps and about all that confidence, which makes our faith and our hopes, in a great measure, satisfying.

If we must have reports of brilliant victories achieved, vast sections of territory taken, large numbers of prisoners and guns captured, we look in vain at the results of the awful fighting which has continued now for nearly three weeks without cessation.

If we become disheartened because our lines have been beaten back a few miles then there is enough to find in the reports of the battle thus far to create that feeling.

If we consider the tremendous power of the attacking force, the barren results thus far attained, the frightful price paid, the fact that our lines are yet intact, that the great body of our reserves is yet unused and that the enemy has called into battle and slaughtered, ruthlessly, the larger part of his reserves, if we can realize the hope and confident expectation of the enemy at the time the present offensive was launched, then we can be encouraged by the news from the front.

We have never lost confidence that all is working out right in the battle "over there" on the blood-soaked fields of France. Just when the turn will come in the tide of war no man can tell.

We must be content with little detail information as to the inner facts. We must have faith and do more and keep on doing more. If the hours seem dark we must struggle harder toward the light—toward the sunshine which is shining back of the clouds—we can't stop by the wayside.

With the faith that knows no faltering to sustain us we must not be discouraged. There is no need to be discouraged. The world has sent its sons to stop the Huns and they have, thus far, succeeded.

Holland's Wheat Cargoes

Owing to Holland's true need of food the War Trade Board has released for immediate shipment two shiploads of wheat. The shipment is to be made in vessels recently commandeered by the United States from Holland. The shipment is in part payment for the commandeered vessels. Germany has magnanimously consented not to sink the ships.

For a time, it will be remembered, the Huns threatened reprisals against Dutch shipping because the United States had seized vessels of Queen Wilhelmina's subjects in our harbors. All of which was typical Teutonic logic.

Now there seems to have been a new light break on the German war lords and they agree that the wheat cargoes will be given safe passage.

Skeptical Americans are wondering whether the Teutons have actually changed their minds and really desire to assist in relieving the distress of Hollanders, caused primarily by the U-boat campaign, or whether they expect all or a part of the wheat.

In view of what has gone before it's hard to believe the Teutons want to right a wrong even partially and more difficult still to believe that they have changed their minds.

Ireland's Part

The American people are fond of the Irish and Ireland, they have always sympathized with them in their struggle for better conditions of government on the "Emerald Isle" and knowing the Irish people for what they are, a genial, kindly, friendly, carefree people, impulsive and affectionate, free from malice and forgiving, America is surprised at the stand of opposition Ireland has assumed in reference to the man power proposal of Lloyd George. There is still the hope in America that Redmond does not correctly, in that particular, voice the sentiments of the Irish people.

In asking Ireland to increase her representation, even by conscription, in the army of freedom, now battling the Huns in France and Belgium, Great Britain is not asking Ireland to do anything that Great Britain and every colony and every section of the empire has not done. Ireland is not asked to do anything for England. The appeal is for Ireland and all the world beside. The grievances of Ireland against Great Britain, and they are valid grievances too, can wait until after humanity is safe—until after Ireland has done her part.

Great Britain must account, and will be made to account for her century-long oppression in Ireland, but Ireland having battled for centuries for freedom, can't afford to fail in her part of the world war.

THE RECONCILIATION

The sun and April were at odds,
And gloomy was the morning;
She hid her face with frowns and pouts,
And treated him with scorning.

But he, despite her stormy ways,
And manner cold and chilling;
Still bent on her a loving gaze,
Still to forgive was willing.

But yet she hid her frowning face
From his so bright and bearing;
Behind her veil of misty lace,
With tears her eyes were streaming.

Then hotly, ardently he woed.
She could no more resist him;
And, with a sudden change of mood,
She rent her veil and kissed him!

And when these two were reconciled,
A charm fell o'er the morning;
And April's tear-drops when she smiled,
Were gems for her adorning.

Mrs. Alice Taggart, of Jeffersonville, county president, honored the Staunton W. C. T. U. Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Roberts.

The members, joined by representatives from Sugar Grove and Chillicothe, listened to the president's inspiring talk "Victory Comes Through Faith," said Mrs. Taggart, and at last the discussion in the Senate over this great foe in our country has aroused fresh enthusiasm. In a recent speech Senator Jones is quoted as saying: "There is yet a most powerful enemy stalking through the country—not in Washington state, thank God—more powerful than all the traitors we have harbored or are harboring in our midst—the liquor traffic."

Mrs. Thos. Worthington had charge of the devotees and Mrs. A. C. McCoy favored the guests with two beautiful piano numbers. After tempting refreshments were served by the hostess, the members reported having finished 9 pairs of wristlets, 5 scarfs, 65 medicine covers, 3 fracture pillows, 1 sweater, 6 slings, 1 dozen handkerchiefs, 4 pairs of sox, 12 elbow rests.

The president made report that the union had sent a bundle of magazines to the State prison.

A pretty gift, as a class souvenir, was presented to Miss Dray by Miss Mina French, in the absence of class president Minton.

There were games, contests and music. Miss Beatrice Porter won the prize in an advertising contest.

Miss Gladys McCord and Eleanor McClain gave humorous readings, much enjoyed.

A feature of the evening's fun was popping corn and roasting marshmallows.

BIG SHELLS FALL AMONG LOCAL MEN ON FIRING FRONT

Cook Emmett Hays, in Letter to Brother, Tells How Hun Shells Fell Among M Company Troops and Thrill Caused by the Gas Alarms.

A little glimpse of what Company M boys recently underwent in the front line trenches in France is carried in a letter written by Cook, Emmett Hays, to his brother, Walter Hays of this city, in which he tells of the thrills of big shells dropping within 50 feet, the work of the German snipers, and the gas alarm. The letter follows:

Somewhere in France, March 15, 1918.

Dear Brother:

I have been to the trenches and have just returned. We are all O. K. Didn't lose a man. I went up to the front line trenches on Sunday afternoon. Had just about reached the front when a big shell burst about 50 ft. from me. You should have seen me hug the ground. The stones and mud fell thick and fast against my steel helmet. I got up and started again and another one fell close to me. I reached the front line all O. K. Just as I stepped out to go back a German sniper shot at me three times. I certainly did make tracks. They shell our kitchen day and night we are either being shelled or having gas shot over us. I will tell you my first experience with gas, the second night that we were close to the front about 12 of us were in the room about 10:30 talking over our plans when the guard out side began turning the crank that sounds the Claxon. It scared us like everything but we had on our gas masks in about two seconds. We are well trained on gas. I think Sherman was right when he said, "War is Hell."

Our artillery certainly has been shooting the Boche. It sure does make you feel shaky when the big shells drop close to you. Don't say anything about clothes, I have everything that I need. If you want to send anything send cigars.

With love to all,

SUNNY SIDE SALE CLEARS LARGE SUM

The Sunny Side Bargain and Rummage Sale, held under the auspices of the Sunny Side War Work Organization, went through with a whirl Saturday morning. Long before the hour appointed crowds were in waiting outside and when the doors opened the crowd poured in so fast that the women found it difficult to wait on their eager customers.

Things sold at a very low price, but in the aggregate total a sum beyond expectations. Twelve children's divans, sent to the sale from the Washington Mfg. Co. by Manager Robert Sites, sold in less than three minutes after they were put up and, to the gratification of teacher and pupils, a number were donated to the Sunny Side Kindergarten.

People came from far off distances in autos and buggies. They loaded up canned fruit, jellies, potatoes, bacon by chickens and other lines. In an incredibly short time the counters of the grocery department were bare and also those where fresh meat had been donated from three meat markets of the city.

A large amount of tea, coffee, syrup and other groceries donated by a Sunny Side man hardly touch the counters before they were gobbled up.

A big stock of millinery donated by two of the largest dry goods firms was eagerly sought and the women deplored the fact that they had neglected to provide mirrors. Twenty-five $3.00 shirt waists slightly soiled, but right from leading stores, went like hot cakes, as did shoes, underwear and all kinds of wearing apparel. The low prices meant real bargains for the poor as well as providing for soldiers' supplies.

The sale together with substantial checks from business firms and business men amounted to $91.66. With some cash donations yet to come in it will reach the $100 mark. The organization hopes to finance itself in the future as in the past. It feels deeply grateful to Postmaster Murray for the free use of the building, well suited to such a sale, and to all donors.

A number of donations were received late, after the crowd had thinned, and the women will hold a second sale in a few weeks at which they will be sold.

HOME SERVICE DEPT. OPENS HEADQUARTERS

The Home Service Department of the Red Cross opens its public office in the basement of the Court House, War Work Council rooms, Monday, in charge of the Secretary, Miss Mary Robinson, who recently completed the Home Service course at the Ohio State University so as to bring the utmost efficiency to this vital branch of Red Cross work.

Although the office has not been opened Miss Robinson has been busy since her return and has already found her services needed.

The information service of this department will be open to the soldiers' families and any who has not received the allotment or government allowance, will notify the secretary who will be glad to render aid in investigating the different cases.

The Home Service committee is also in communication with the Red Cross Field Directors of the different camps and fairs of the United States and information from the men in the camps and fairs can be obtained in a very short time.

Any families that desire to report to the Home Service department may call either phone at the office or any member of the committee, composed of Mr. Howard Allen, Walter Ellis, Harry Rankin, or the secretary. Office hours: Monday, Wednesday, Saturday, 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. Office basement of court house, War Work Council.

The object of the Home Service department of the Red Cross is to help sustain the morale of the army. The test of the success of this department is not in the number of families called upon, but the improved health, happiness, comfort and character of the families cared for, and particularly of the children in these families.

Women and non-combatant men have in this Home Service work as big a national work open to them behind the scenes as the men have who are playing their part so gallantly on Flanders fields and elsewhere.

The important thing to remember is that we must all get into the fight. Discontented families may mean a discontented soldier and a discontented soldier may mean a discontented

AUTO MUFFLERS MUST BE CLOSED

Automobile mufflers must be kept closed while in the city, particularly in the vicinity of hospitals, schools and churches and in fact wherever open auto exhausts cause annoyance.

This warning was issued by the city authorities Saturday, and owners of automobiles and motor driven vehicles generally are expected to heed the warning immediately.

The practice of many careless drivers, of causing a commotion by opening the auto exhausts has been very annoying to a host of citizens, who will welcome the now order with a great deal of pleasure.

There is a strict ordinance providing for less noise and this will be enforced.

Orders for the bonds are being placed at all banks, every day, and it was expected that tens of thousands of dollars would be added to the subscriptions in Fayette county.

WHAT CONSTITUTE NON-TAXABLES IS FULLY EXPLAINED

State Tax Commission Explains
When Money Which Is Invested In Non-Taxable Securities Is to Be Listed for Taxation, and
When Not to be Listed.

County Auditor Pine has received the following instructions from the State Tax Commission regarding the listing of money which has been invested in non-taxable securities during the fiscal year ending April 7, 1918, and which should be read carefully.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take
Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—alazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

fully by all who made such investment:
1st. If a person during the year ending April 7, 1918 had in his possession a sum of money, credits or other effects that are taxable and he converted same into non-taxable security, and owns such non-taxable security on April 7, 1918, he should have to pay taxes for the year 1918 on the proportionate amount determined by the time during the year ending April 7, 1918, that he held such taxable moneys, credits or other effects.

2nd. If a person held taxable stocks, bonds or credits upon which he was paying taxes as returned April 8, 1917, and during the year ending April 7, 1918, he converted or sold same, investing the money in any non-taxable security and owns such non-taxable security on April 7, 1918, the same would not be taxable for the reason that he did not hold the money for any length of time before investing same.

6th. If a person during the year ending April 7, 1918, comes into possession of a sum of money from any source other than sale of taxable securities (for example, a gift, maturing of insurance policy, or from sale of non-taxable securities) and immediately invests same in non-taxable securities and owns such non-taxable security on April 7, 1918, the same would not be taxable for the reason that such money was not held for any length of time.

7th. If a person subscribes for non-taxable bonds or other securities and pays certain amount down, but said bonds or securities will not be delivered or be in his possession until after April 7, 1918, and therefore not owned or controlled by him on said date, then the amount paid on the subscription would be taxable as a credit. The balance thereafter to be paid on said subscription cannot be considered a debt which may deduct from his credits.

8th. If a person within the year ending April 7, 1918, purchases non-taxable stocks or bonds and owns same on April 7, 1918, then the fact or thing to be determined is first, the NUMBER of MONTHS the person held the taxable moneys, credits or other effects before purchasing the non-taxable; second, the amount or true value of such TAXABLE MON-

EYS, CREDITS OR OTHER EFFECTS used to purchase the non-taxable; third, then find the proportion which the time he held the taxable bears to the entire year, and that proportion of the true value of such taxable moneys, credits or other effects will be the value to be returned for taxation in 1918.

5th. If a person during the year ending April 7, 1918, through saving from his salary or income, invests in any non-taxable securities on payments, which are made from his salary or income and owns such non-taxable security on April 7, 1918, the same would not be taxable for the reason that he did not hold the money for any length of time before investing same.

source other than sale of taxable securities (for example, a gift, maturing of in-non-taxable securities and owns such non-taxable security on April 7, 1918, the same would not be taxable for the reason that such money was not held for any

MAKES MANY TESTS AND DISCUSSES THE SEED CORN MATTER

April 13, 1918.

Editors Herald:

In view of the fact that I have made many tests of corn for seed during the last few months, some remarks on the subject at this time I thought perhaps, would be accepted from me. The experience of the farmer in selecting his seed corn this year clearly demonstrates the importance of "Corn Maturity." The moisture content of the corn was largely responsible for the lack of seed corn for this year's planting. The frost, except in rare cases, arrested its growth while it was yet immature. Wherever corn was selected and "cured" before freezing weather, there is reasonably good germination. It is clearly shown by the more than 2 hundred sample tests I have made in the last three months. Many of the samples tested showed as low as five percent germination and the effort was very feeble at that. This was especially true when the grains were taken from nice, large, good looking ears. Grains taken from small and "husky" ears usually gave the strongest and best germination.

The "knife test" is very deceptive: the germ may be clear and live looking, but when grains from the same ear are tested for germination, they often prove to be absolutely dead, which proves conclusively that the only safe plan is to make a test of grains from each individual ear. The agitation in regard to seed corn for this season has developed the fact that great care should be exercised in the preparation of the land and using every effort to assist the weak germ to make its start: It is almost out of the question to talk about using fertilizer this year but it would be advisable to do so even if the best adapted kind is not available.

Assuming that the ear test has been made of all your seed corn, it would be well to separate it into two grades: Use the eighty to one hundred per cent ears, three and four grains to the hill, and the sixty to eighty per cent ears four grains and sometimes five grains to the hill: assuming again, that the same proportion can be obtained in the stand as
